LAWS

– ISSUES & CONCERNS

27TH & 28TH DECEMBER 2014

Advanced Centre for Research, Development and Training in Cyber Laws and Forensics [ACRDTCLF], established at National Law School of India University, Bangalore under the initial financial support of the Department of Information Technology (DeitY), Ministry of Communications & Information Technology, Government of India aims to spread awareness about Cyber Laws and Cyber Forensics and provide training to Judicial Officers, Public Prosecutors, Investigating Agencies, Cyber Security Personnel, Law Teachers, other Law professionals, students and general public.

With the objective of mainstreaming research in the area of cyber security and cyber law, the Centre conducts various research projects. To further achieve this objective, the centre will be organising a 2 day National Seminar on “Cyber Security and Cyber Laws – Issues and Concerns” on 27th and 28th December 2014.

SEMINAR PRE-NOTE

Due to technological advancement of society, many issues have arisen in relation to the integrity and security of cyber space, information, privacy, intellectual property rights, electronic transactions, etc. The Indian Information Technology Act, 2000 being the primary source of cyber law with its 2008 amended provisions is currently dealing with various issues relating to cyber technology’s use and abuse. Additionally, laws such as Indian Penal Code, Indian Evidence Act, Indian Contract Act, Intellectual Property Rights [IPR] laws, Banking laws etc., complement the current Indian Cyber law framework.

Research and development in the area of cyber security is also of immense importance today and is the need of the day. Such research indeed must contribute and lead to further development of cyber laws and regulatory mechanisms of the country. Hence the seminar.

The Seminar will provide a platform for the scholars and researchers from the area of cyber security laws so as to facilitate deliberation and exchange of ideas amongst them about this crucial issue of concern. A concise form of selected papers’ findings and ideas will be submitted in form of “PROPOSALS FOR CHANGE” to the Department of Electronics & Information Technology [DeitY], Ministry of Communications & Information Technology, Government of India.
