GNLU JOURNAL OF LAW, DEVELOPMENT AND POLITICS

Call for Papers

The GNLU JOURNAL OF LAW, DEVELOPMENT AND POLITICS (GJLDP), is the first academic journal to look at the inter-disciplinary aspects between Law, Development and Politics, which are three entirely diverse yet convergent fields meriting greater in-depth research, discussion and analysis. The Editorial Board of the Journal welcomes the submission of original articles, comments and book reviews within the aim and scope of the journal.

GJLDP invites authors to submit manuscripts under following heads:

- ARTICLE

'Article' refers to a comprehensive and thorough analysis of issues related to law, development or politics. The Article submitted is expected to be comprehensive and thorough and should deal with the issues in an analytical fashion. The word limit for articles is between 5,000 to 8,000 words.

- COMMENTARIES

'Commentary' refers to academic writing that analyses or is a critique of a recent event, case, piece of legislation, or contemporary issues related to law, development or politics. The word limit for Commentaries is between 4,000 to 5,000 words.

- BOOK REVIEW

'Book Review' should be of a recently published notable publication by any author of repute. A book review should ideal contain not only content overview but also appraisal and critical analysis of ideas along with comparison with similar related journals. The word limit for Book Review is 3,000 words. Submission should include complete details of the books including the edition, publisher details and the ISBN Number.
