

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Indian School Of Mines

MARCH 27-28, 2015

About MUN

Model United Nations is an activity that seeks to simulate the proceedings of the United Nations. Through Model UN, or MUN, participants learn a lot about international politics and have a blast the same time! These simulations take place at conferences, which are held at the high school and college level all across the world. At these conferences, delegates get to represent member-states of the United Nations or unique characters as they face either preplanned topics or unpredictable crises—both of which test their skills in diplomacy. The goal of each committee is to pass resolutions and provide solutions to the topics at hand. In fact, some resolutions passed at Model UN conferences have gone to the real UN! MUN involves and teaches research, public speaking, debating, and writing skills, in addition to critical thinking, teamwork, and leadership abilities. Model United Nations at the Indian School of Mines hosts a conference for both high school and college level participants.

MISSION

Model United Nations (MUN) assists students into getting involved with local and global communities in order to make our world a better place to live. Active members meet new interesting people, participate in local, national and international MUN conferences, discuss human rights issues around the world, organize events to help people in need and many more.

VISION

Equip the global youth of the world with the understanding of the UN, and provide them an insight into the political scenario of the world; hence enabling them to lead the world towards an amicable tomorrow.

Why MUN?

Learning

It's a fun way of learning about the world. In this era of globalization, being globally aware is more important than ever. Also, having fun makes it easier to learn something and more likely to stick.

Leadership

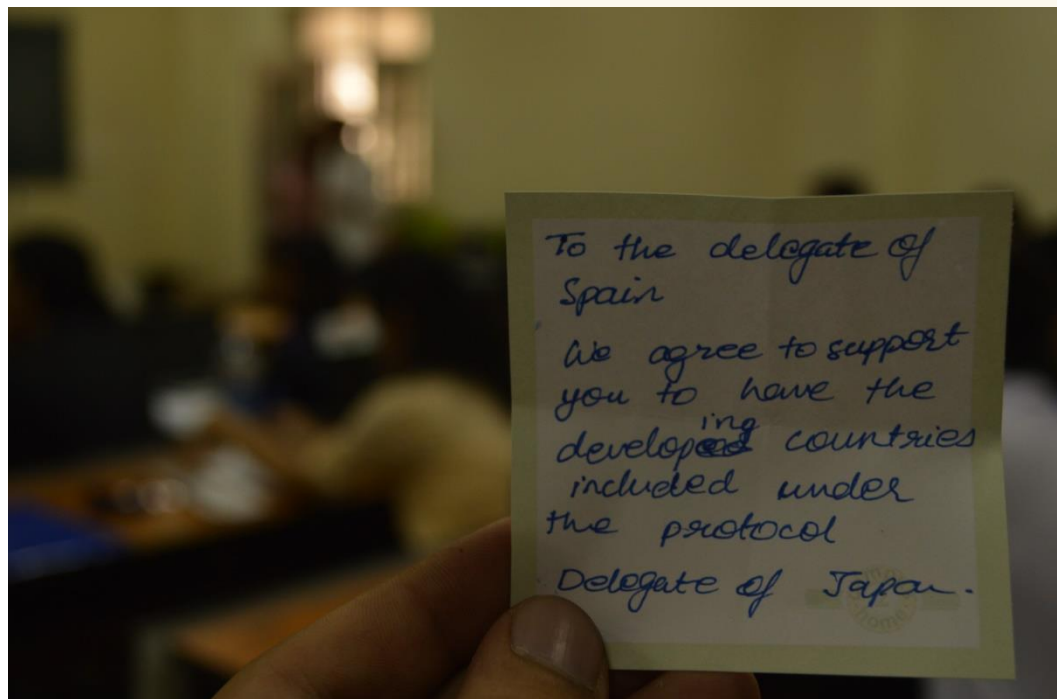

It develops leadership skills. MUN is an exercise in research, public speaking, and teamwork. These are skills that you will need throughout your career, and MUN gives you a chance to practice them while you're a student.

Leverage

You can leverage your MUN experience and network to get into college and find jobs. Admissions officers and job interviewers look for examples of leadership, and your experiences as a delegate or conference organizer will be good examples. You will also develop a network of alumni from your MUN club and people you've met at conferences.

"Freedom is a timeless value. The United Nations Charter calls for encouraging respect for fundamental freedoms. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights mentions freedom more than twenty times. All countries have committed to protecting individual freedoms on paper - but in practice, too many break their pledge."

8th Secretary- General

Testimonials

Saras Bansal

"The delegates at ISMMUN were exceptional and the organizing committee needs to appreciation. Really looking forward to the next one!"

Quintus Fernandes

"ISMMUN was amazing. An event like this is way overdue. I cannot wait for the next one, and thank you so much for taking the time to bring a Model United Nations to Dhanbad!"

Snehadeep Kayet

"The delegates in my committee were exceptionally brilliant. The organizing committee members were very much helpful and gave their complete assistance to us."

Dhriti Dhairya

"ISMMUN was a huge success! I could not believe the growth each student showed by the end of the conference. The first day, some delegates were shy and unsure. By the second afternoon every delegate was displaying such confidence! It was literally a night to day transformation!"

Anshu Kumar

"The participants were enthusiastic, the organization was sharp and professional, and the atmosphere friendly yet rigorous. Above all, Srijan, the cultural fest of ISM Dhanbad, really made the difference!"

Tanmay Majumder

"The only reason that I would love to come back is because that is where the heart is, amidst you all- the ISMMUN family."
