

Internship Opportunity - Austria

Negotiation - Design - Technology Focus

This is a one month internship opportunity for any 2nd year+ student with strong interest in negotiation, design, marketing and technology.

Do you enjoy working on new ideas, creating new things, designing, brainstorming, analyzing, executing? I might have a unique opportunity for you to work with me: I am looking for 2 students to join me in Austria this summer for one month to work with me on an online negotiation training project.

What I expect you to bring:

1. A passion for beautiful design (we will create days and weeks of ppt based video lectures)
2. A native-like command of written and spoken English
3. Experience in technology for video editing and cutting, webpage creation, working with various online platforms, databases, servers
4. A good understanding of negotiation theory or some experience/courses/competition (you can also develop the theory part once selected if need be but plan time for it)
5. Absolute reliability (if I give you a task I need to know it's being taken care of without asking a second time)
6. High personal drive to work beyond tasks given and bring in own ideas and feedback
7. High self-motivation to learn new skills and apply them

What's in it for you:

1. Hands-on business experience in an international environment
2. Intense exposure to negotiation theory, teaching, business development, design and marketing

3. Development of personality and skills in a diverse area of life and business domains
4. My personal support for your career goals, mentoring, contacts, recommendations, etc
5. A summer in Austria 😊

Details: approximately 4 weeks in June 2017, to be coordinated with the individual candidates

Procedure: For your application, please send an application in the form of a Power Point presentation. The presentation should show your aptitude to create a professional looking slide set AND should (in its content) describe why you would be the perfect match for this opportunity. The design must be along the color and style as in the sample provided below. Please particularly list all graphic- design- and video editing programs you can work with. Please limit your slides to only a few, around 5 slides, but make sure they are your best design work.

Please submit this presentation along with your CV and a link to your LinkedIn or FB (if available) to office@claudiawinkler.net by 28 February 2017.

Successful candidates of the written round will be invited for a skype interview early March.

Looking forward to hearing from you!
