

AGAMI IS LOOKING FOR INTERNS

Are you interested in shaping a radically new future of law and justice in India?

What we do

Through the Agami Prize, Agami Challenges, and other initiatives, we are triggering a culture of changemaking, supporting changemakers from across sectors and framing opportunities for action that can shape a future in which citizens thrive

What we're looking for

We owe our growing community to a set of simple principles: courage, responsibility, authenticity, creativity and agility. And this is what we look for in our interns, from across all backgrounds of study including law, design and technology
