

WE at Law League India are motivated to encourage students to undertake research on existing lacunas in the society. It is our belief that any potential change in the society can be triggered by the actions of law students and legal personnels. This vision of pooling together public spirited individuals is manifested in the form of 'Pragyaan' under which we shall be addressing various social issues that affect our country.

Water pollution is one of the foremost problems that plagues our society and has deep rooted consequences. Sewage Disposal and Treatment has been a major concern and effluent water is known to have caused serious health and sanitation problems to both human and aquatic life. Law League, under 'Pragyaan' initiative, shall be bringing together a team of students to address a similar problem ailing the Sutlej River in Punjab. The Project shall be focussed on the problem and mass level deficiencies of sanitation and water pollution in the vicinity of Chandigarh, the Capital of Punjab and Haryana, home to several eminent bureaucrats and political leaders. The project shall undertake an empirical study and analytical of the substandard conditions of sewage disposal and treatment in Chandigarh, attempting to formulate several problem-solving mechanisms.

With this project, Law league shall be advocating against poor Governmental control in the area of discharge of untreated / effluent water spreading pollution & diseases. The scope of the research shall extend from collecting raw data with respect to water usage to visiting govt. officials to collect information. On the basis of the project outcome, we shall be seek to file a complaint/petition under relevant provisions of Environmental Law and fundamental rights, seeking compensation for affected persons.

The project shall be conducted by seven student volunteers under the guidance of Mr. Sunil Mallan, Senior Advocate (Justice for you Law Firm), Mrs Saumya Uma (Assistant Professor, School of Law, Governance and Citizenship, Ambedkar University, Delhi University) and Mr. Rahul Sapkal (Assistant Professor, Maharashtra National Law University, Mumbai). The students shall be given experience of empirical research and exposure to practical working patterns of government offices and Court. Individuals with inclination towards social and environmental justice shall find in this initiative a great platform to explore their interests.

Student volunteers shall be selected on the basis of their CV (relevant to the project) and statement of purpose sent to lawleague.in. The statement of purpose must be concise, limited to 250-300 words. The deadline for submission of applications is 15th August 2019.

Students are required to possess the following:

1. Interest in field works and Prior empirical research experience
2. Legal and academic writing skills
3. Legal research expertise
4. Communication and advocacy skills
5. Leadership skills
6. History showcasing moral force of character and interest in fellow beings.

For any further information or query, visit <https://lawleague.in> or feel free to contact us at info@lawleague.in or +91 9967069792.